
business plan software

Posted by glenn - 2008/11/20 09:39

Sorry if this is a duplicate post. I'm looking for a BP program that can produce a report suitable for banks and investors. Something simple with perhaps a template for a restaurant. Palo Alto? Thanks.

=====

business plan software

Posted by Arnold - 2008/11/20 09:39

Sorry if this is a duplicate post. I'm looking for a BP program that can produce a report suitable for banks and investors. Something simple with perhaps a template for a restaurant. Palo Alto? Thanks.

=====

business plan software

Posted by Craig - 2008/11/20 09:39

Sorry if this is a duplicate post. I'm looking for a BP program that can produce a report suitable for banks and investors. Something simple with perhaps a template for a restaurant. Palo Alto? Thanks. I agree, bank loan officers want originality and experience in business plan proposals, if you need some guidance look at the Excel worksheets on business plans but these are just templates and detailed past history in the industry, projections need to be done.

=====

business plan software

Posted by glenn - 2008/11/20 09:39

Sorry if this is a duplicate post. I'm looking for a BP program that can produce a report suitable for banks and investors. Something simple with perhaps a template for a restaurant. Palo Alto? Thanks.

=====

business plan software

Posted by John D. Bowl - 2008/11/20 09:39

Very nice Arnold, first of all you must have the whole vision of the business and make a writing plan to present to others investors (even Banks) but in this plan is a good think to make previsions and numbers. Good luck John Arnold <arn...@a-systems.net ha scritto nel messaggio Don't waste money on software.

=====